DEAR GUESTS,

Welcome to Montreux Riviera, a real corner of paradise, which has attracted so many artists, men of letters and travellers in search of natural beauty, peace and inspiration.

Indeed, it was certainly not by chance that Charlie Chaplin chose to spend the last 25 years of his life on the hillside behind Vevey, or that Freddie Mercury immortalized Lake Geneva and the peaks of the Grammont on the cover of his album “Made in Heaven”, or that Stravinsky composed the “Rite of Spring” at Montreux, or that the singer Prince declared his love for Lavaux in a song called after the famous terraced vineyard, part of the UNESCO World Heritage.

How do you explain the attraction that Montreux Riviera held for Hemingway, Nabokov, Sissi and so many others? Perhaps it's the advantages of the microclimate, or the splendours of a lake that you cannot but admire, or the surrounding mountains, both impressive and reassuring, or the sunsets that resemble the paintings of the masters...? No doubt all of these aspects! But whatever the reasons that attracted you to Montreux Riviera, I would like to wish you the most pleasant, relaxing and inspiring stay.

HISTORY

Montreux Riviera is a peaceful, internationally-renowned region, where tourism took off at the beginning of the 19th century. Two hundred years later, the terraced vineyards of Lavaux are a listed UNESCO World Heritage Site.

Lavaux's remarkable story began as far back as the 12th century. It was at this time that a number of monasteries set about clearing the steep hillside, at an angle of 15 to 100 degrees, in order to plant vineyards. Monks from the region built a series of walls, forming terraces, in order to support and flatten the land that today is recognised around the world both for its beauty and for the excellence of its wines. During this period, the first Counts of Savoy ruled over the emblematic Chillon Castle, on the shores of Lake Geneva. Among them, Thomas 1st decided to build a "new town" called "Ville Neuve de Chillon", which later became Villeneuve. Thanks to its strategic location, this lakeside medieval town was quick to prosper through trade before tourism took over as the dominant industry in the early 19th century.

Montreux saw its first guest house open in 1815 to accommodate the ever-increasing number of visitors. Momentum grew, with the first large hotels being built from 1840 onwards and the arrival of the railway in 1861. During this era, the Orient Express even made a stop at Territet station.

Captivated by the beautiful scenery, the mild climate and the excellent quality of life, a number of famous figures hastened to visit the region, some even settling down in the area.

Among the most well-known are Victor Hugo, Gustave Eiffel, Charlie Chaplin, Gandhi and Freddie Mercury.

Vevey began to develop in the 18th century, mainly thanks to its dynamic industries and flourishing businesses. Montreux, on the other hand, continued to consist of small villages populated by farmers and craftsman.

Montreux Riviera region began attracting its first visitors and gaining a genuine reputation as a tourist resort due chiefly to the success of the literary works of Jean-Jacques Rousseau ("The New Heloise", 1761) and Lord Byron ("The Prisoner of Chillon", 1816). Enchanted by the descriptions of Chillon Castle and the surrounding area, European nobility, particularly the English, travelled here to find much-needed serenity and a change of scenery.

An extraordinary fortified medieval castle in the most beautiful setting imaginable, on Lake Geneva surrounded by mountains!

The prestigious Chillon Castle is one of Switzerland's strongest symbols and the most visited historic monument in the country.

Built in the 12th century on a rocky island, it offered both natural protection and a strategic position, from which traffic between the north and south of Europe could be controlled. The powerful Dukes of Savoy lived there from the 13th to the 16th century, a glorious period for Chillon, which saw the construction of its many towers and splendid great halls.

This legendary place, with its twofold purpose – fortress and ducal residence – has inspired some of the greatest names in literature, such as Lord Byron, Victor Hugo and Henry James.

It is possible to visit the Castle with an audioguide. Audiovisual terminals throughout the Castle; there is also a discovery tour for children and a variety of events throughout the year.

VIGNOBLE
EN TERRASSES

Stretching out over 830 hectares, Lavaux is one of the largest vineyards in Switzerland. Numerous charming and picturesque wine-growers' villages are tightly nestled around their wine cellars and fountains.

Monks were already cultivating the vines here in the eleventh century, on narrow terraces supported by stone walls. Ever since, generations of wine-growers with a respect for age-old traditions have maintained and shaped this exceptional mosaic which covers some 40 km of the slopes spanning along Lake Geneva. This cultural landscape houses 14 well-preserved villages; its growth and development during the past thousand years is the result of the harmonious interaction between the inhabitants and their environment.

For these reasons, and also due to the extraordinary beauty of its scenery, Lavaux has been a listed UNESCO World Heritage Site since June 2007, thus honouring the steep vineyards that overlook Lake Geneva and the mountains.

Lavaux is also renowned for its wines and numerous gourmet restaurants.

OLD TOWN OF VEVEY

(allow half a day)

Guided tour, see on p. 82

The Old Town of Vevey is peppered with historical monuments and museums reflecting its rich past. A large variety of boutiques and artists' galleries boasting their wares and talent can also be found along the narrow cobbled streets.

Every Tuesday and Saturday morning, Vevey's market, with its colourful and aromatic stands, is held on the Grande Place, selling local produce and antiques. On Saturdays during July and August, the usual markets give way to folk markets where, in return for a modest sum, everyone is welcome to come and sample a variety of fine regional wines in the company of the wine-growers themselves. A joyful atmosphere is guaranteed with brass bands, alpine horns and wine-growers dressed in traditional costumes!

The heart of the Old Town, with its pedestrian streets, cafés and boutiques, is located just a stone's throw from the Grande Place. On the quayside, a statue of Charlie Chaplin, one of the town's emblematic figures, peers out contemplatively over the lake with a mischievous look on his face.

On the shores of Lake Geneva, the thirteen kilometer long quays of Montreux offer not only exotic flowers and palm trees but also a sumptuous view of the Alps.

Taking full advantage of the region's micro-climate, the city's gardeners imbue the lakeside with the colours and perfumes of many types of exotic trees and flowers. Specialty of Montreux, the plant sculptures, authentic works of ephemeral art, can be discovered from December to May between Clarens and Territet.

MONTREUX LAKESIDE

The statue of Freddie Mercury also stands on the quays in front of the Covered Market. This artist lived in Montreux for several years while recording his last album with the group Queen, "Made in Heaven", in the Mountain Studio that used to be in the Montreux Casino. Deceased in November 1991, his statue symbolises the affection the city feels for him.

An ideal walk

On foot from the centre of Montreux to Villeneuve (approx. 1 hr and 15 min). Chillon Castle and the famous Dents du Midi mountain range are two of the many sights you can enjoy along this route, which is suitable for all walkers. At the end of the walk, you can either cool down at the swimming pool or the beach in Villeneuve or continue along the town's cobbled Grande Rue or venture further afield to visit the Grangettes nature reserve if you wish.

From the Pillon Pass, the cable car goes up to 3,000 metres in 15 minutes. At the summit, the view of the eternal snow and the mountain chains is spectacular. Further down, the valleys of the French-speaking region and the Bernese Oberland area are also fascinating.

The Alpine Coaster is the world's highest bobsleigh track. The one-kilometre descent includes a loop, ten curves, six waves, three jumps and two bridges. The Alpine Coaster operates from May to the end of September. If you'd like to have a unique experience, try this crazy descent – it will get your adrenaline pumping straight away!

The excursions on the glacier with the "Snow Bus" and the dog sledding teams are extremely inviting. Visitors of all ages appreciate the walks on the glacier and the look-out point, from where you can see the Matterhorn and Mont Blanc, among other peaks.

The "Peak Walk by Tissot", the first and till now only suspension bridge in the world to connect two peaks, is free of charge for Glacier 3000 visitors and is open year round. Glacier 3000 is also a ski area, open from October to May, and boasts 25 km of slopes.

TASTE

Montreux Riviera is a gourmet paradise. From its restaurants boasting star awards to its typical bars, the region satisfies the most demanding of palates. As for wine lovers, they can enjoy the wines from Lavaux, one of Switzerland's most famous vineyards.

Now part of the UNESCO World Heritage Sites, the terraced vineyards of Lavaux are well-known for their wines that are produced mostly from the Chasselas grape, a white variety typical of Switzerland. Chasselas is grown on 830 hectares with the label "AOC Lavaux" guaranteeing its quality. With a subtle flavour, the Chasselas reflects the characteristics of the soil in which it grows. It is a fruity, fresh wine, with a wonderful mineral character. It is ideal when served as an aperitif, or to drink with fish or cheese dishes. Boasting over 20 restaurants with famous chefs or star awards, Montreux Riviera is one of the most famous regions in the world for its culinary arts.

In addition to top-class gastronomy, the area's catering establishments use the best of local products. Perch filets from Lake Geneva, papet vaudois (a cantonal speciality, containing leeks and potatoes baked in cream and wine), cooked pork meats, cheeses and desserts: the cuisine offered by the Riviera is as pleasing by its richness as its creativity!

In this warm village house, Stéphane Décotterd continues the work of Gérard Rabaey with great passion. An inventive cuisine which uses the finest local products and is served with the best Swiss and French wines.

The Alimentarium Food Museum, on the shores of Lake Geneva, explores diverse aspects of human food and nutrition, from historical, scientific and cultural points of view.

On 4 June 2016, the Alimentarium will inaugurate an exciting new exhibition in an entirely revamped exhibition space. As a museum which moves with the times, it invites visitors of all ages to take a close look at what and how we eat, an activity full of history and emotions. The Alimentarium proposes an educational, interactive journey blending discovery, experimentation and knowledge enhancement, through three new exhibition areas devoted to foodstuffs, production methods, culture and beliefs about food as well as to nutrition and the function of the human digestive system.

Since experimentation is an intrinsic part of food and eating, the Museum offers numerous daily cookery workshops: Visitors can make and taste local or international dishes. Whether you are a food lover, professional chef, child or grandparent, there will be something for every taste!

In close proximity to the lakeside, the Historical Museum of Vevey retraces several centuries of Vevey's history.

The Historical Museum's vocation is to conserve the patrimony of the city and its surrounding areas. It is a charming museum and offers a varied content of alternating regional themes and original collections. Founded in 1897, the Historical Museum of Vevey occupies the halls of the Vevey Castle. Formerly known as "la Belle-Maison", this 16th century residence used to be the home of the Bernese bailiffs. It is in this historical building that the museum's collections bring alive the history of the region from the Celtic period to the present day.

Objects, documents and numerous iconographical artefacts are on display in an exhibit, which honours the character of the building. The unique collection of keys, locks and old caskets is particularly interesting.

The Fête des Vignerons (Winegrowers' Festival) takes place in Vevey one time per generation. The next one will happen in 2019. The Musée de la Confrérie des Vignerons (Museum of the Brotherhood of winegrowers), organizer of this festival, provides a great insight into this unique world event.

The Brotherhood of winegrowers, established its headquarters on the first floor of the Vevey Castle, a 16th century building owned by the brotherhood. The first written evidence of the existence of the brotherhoods goes back to 1647, but many clues lead one to suppose that it existed already in the Middle Ages.

While it is mostly known for the organisation of the winegrowers' Festival, the imposing celebration that takes place about every 20-25 years, the Brotherhood of Vintners' main objective is the promotion of the cultivation of the vine. In the museum, one can admire the costumes, engravings and many objects associated with past winegrowers' Festivals. Filmed extracts enable you to relive the Festivals from the beginning of the 20th century.

On the upper slopes of the city, the Museum of Montreux presents various aspects of the history of the Montreux region.

The Museum of Montreux is located in a group of the 17th century winegrower's houses that are at the edge of the Old Town. These houses, listed as part of the architectural heritage of Vaud, used to be in what was called the village of Sâles. Inside the museum, the rooms contain a collection of objects as numerous as they are varied: coins, branding irons, carpentry tools, traditional utensils, etc. An admirable collection of more than 2,100 sewing thimbles and numerous articles relating to lacework and embroidery also make up the museum's heritage.

The museum has an exhibit on four themes that are important for understanding the Montreux Region: history, land, tourism and hospitality.

A temporary exhibition related to one of the museum's themes, or one of the region's, will be presented each year.

For over a century, narcissi, or daffodils, have been one of the symbols of Montreux Riviera.

In the Belle Epoque period and till the 1950's, the Narcissi Festival was the attraction of the year: Floats covered with flowers, international ballets and operas provided entertainment in Montreux. But even to this day so-called "May snow" covers the mountain meadows in spring.

Situated at the end of Lake Geneva, Villeneuve has preserved its former, traditional charm, which the walker will take great pleasure in discovering with each step. In the Station Square, the town hall, the old chapel of the Notre-Dame Hospital, attract the attention of the visitor.

In the main street, Saint-Paul's church reveals the coat of arms of the House of Savoy. The lakeside (and "le sentier du 800^m"), the vineyards, the mountain pastures and the Chalet de Chaude are all well worth the detour!

Preserved green areas, reedy marshes, swamps, alluvial forests, humid prairies, the old course of the Rhône river and ponds produced by gravel pits make up this magnificent nature reserve.

At the heart of the Grangettes

Recognized as being of international importance for water and migratory birds by the Ramsar Convention on humid zones, the Grangettes nature reserve offers a landscape in splendid contrast with the adjoining steep mountainsides and bordering lake.

As the last protected land on the banks of Lake Geneva, the reserve can be crossed during a two-hour walk (starting from Villeneuve, for example).

At the Swiss Vapeur Parc at le Bouveret, steam trains run through a landscape of miniature monuments overlooking Lake Geneva. This fun park is the only one of its kind and is much appreciated by families and steam enthusiasts.

The Swiss Vapeur Parc occupies 17,000m² of greenery and owns a fleet of 16 locomotives, including 8 steam engines, pulling from 4 to 8 carriages. On board the miniature steam trains, it takes 15
